ARAB Banker

The Voice of Arab Banking

An exclusive and well-defined readership

Arab Banker is the voice of Arab banking. It is read by leaders and decision-makers in the banking, financial and corporate sectors throughout the Middle East and by their counterparts worldwide with close interests in the region.

The journal is distributed quarterly to Chairmen, Chief Executive Officers, Managing Directors, Board members, Government Ministers and senior officials, General Managers, Chief Financial Officers, IT Managers, Sole Proprietors, Partners, Shareholders, Finance Directors, Treasurers, Department Heads and others responsible for specifying corporate needs and purchasing.

Arab Banker readers are providers of investment and commercial banking services, merger and acquisitions services and corporate finance services as well as leading merchants and corporations in the Middle East sector. They rely on the support of computer hardware and software providers; accounting, tax and legal advisers; specialist risk analysts; management and dealing systems providers; brokers and insurers. They are users of hotel accommodation and airlines and also represent a body of high net worth individuals.
